The Young Ladies' Missionary society, of the Christian church, have their regular monthly meeting Saturday, December 10, at 4 o'clock.

A. C. Bartholomew, formerly engaged in the real estate business in this city, but now operating mines in Colorado, stopped over in Wichita yesterday.

C. H. Pratt and wife of the Emma Abbott opera company are in the city. Mr. Pratt is arranging for the appearance of the opera company on the 10th and 11th.

Mrs. W. A. Reed and her two daughters and Mrs. Hoff, of Lawrence, left yesterday for the city of Lawrence to take possession of their new home in Fairview, which W. A. has just completed.

Rev. P. B. Lee, D. D., of Winfield, is in the city. He is the president of the U. B. church, and will hold the fourth quarterly conference for the church here this afternoon. He will also preach Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

George Kelley, of Caldwell, was in the city yesterday. George says that if the Eagle will say for him that the Rock Island is going from Caldwell to Galveston, and that right soon, he will prove it if there are any dissenting voices to be heard.

Monday the Rock Island passenger depot will be opened.

Our consumers were bustling around yesterday paying their bills.

Sidney Dixon, the successful young salesman, was on the sick list yesterday.

The directors of the Wichita University held a meeting yesterday and transacted some routine business.

Commodore Woodman at midnight last night was reported very low and not expected to live many hours.

The Eagle files had a drill last night in their armory which was well attended by the members of the company.

Mr. Woods who for some time has been in the drug business on North Main street, sold his establishment yesterday.

Miss Lela Martin, accompanied by her brother, from Columbia, Mo., called on her way to the Pacific coast, called last evening.

The tenth annual ball of company A, 2nd regiment, K. T. C., at the Garfield last night was well attended and all present had a good time.

The appointment of a lamp last evening in the Wichita shoe parlor came near destroying some very valuable goods stored in the rear of this store.

Yesterday the main cornice of the Salswick was being painted and the pressed brick work washed down. The interior furnishing is rapidly advancing.

The photographers of the city commenced to brighten up over the incoming Christmas trade. Rogers reports orders exceeding any other year at this date.

L. A. Shriver, the genial live stock agent of the Rock Island, stopped over in the city yesterday for a short time on his way to the southern part of the state.

A very pleasant entertainment is promised in the "Forest of the Canaries," a festival to be given by the Sabbath school of the Temple Baptist congregation.

The Forest City Dry Pressed Brick company yesterday sold to parties in Pratt Center 30,000 bricks. They also sold to contractors in this city 65,000 bricks.

Forty-seven people ate dinner yesterday at the Delmonico. This is a good showing for a new house, and proves that the efforts being made by the proprietors are appreciated by the people.

Thursday afternoon a carpenter, while engaged upon the roof of a building just east of the Santa Fe track and south of the avenue, slipped and fell to the ground sustaining some severe injuries.

Thos. J. Sweeney has been appointed deputy grand master of the Kansas Foremen by Supreme Master James Fisher and left yesterday to establish subordinate councils throughout the state.

Frederick Dixon, a letter received in this city says, has closed his engagement with the Delmonico and will return to Wichita to devote himself to the encouragement of musical and dramatic talent, as well as to the more material fact business of estimating.

The work of the interior furnishing of the Carey Grand is going rapidly on. Messrs. Dean and Strough laboring hard to have it ready for opening by the holidays. Before going away "Uncle" John Carey had his name put down as first upon the new register, adding the direction that when it is filled it be sent to him.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

The first social of the season given at headquarters Monday evening was a success. The rooms were well filled with guests, and the program rendered was a delight to all. The select reading by Mrs. S. T. DuBois of one of Bob Burdette's humorous sermons was highly appreciated and regarded as a foretaste of the feast awaiting us the 23rd of this month, when Burdette himself shall be here. The gentlemen thought the entertainment had been worth more than the door money amounted to, and took up a collection at the close, which was not on the program, but for which the ladies return thanks. The entire proceeds amounted to twelve dollars.

The social will hereafter be held on the first Tuesday evening of each month.

The time for sending off our state dues is near at hand. Any members of the Union who have not paid their membership fee of one dollar for this year, will confer a favor on both local and state Unions by doing so at once. We should be glad to have the name of every lady in the city who is in sympathy with any department of the W. C. T. U. work on our membership roll, even though she may not be situated that she cannot attend the meetings regularly. We must again call attention to the pressing need among the poor of more bedding. There is one family at 302 South Emporia, who are greatly in need of such help. Most of all the man wants work, and is able and willing to do it. He is a shoemaker by trade and would be glad to get some mending to do. He is a neat workman, as specimens of his work here at the rooms will verify. Any one having leaky shoes will be benefited by giving him a call.

If persons returning books to the library will please hand them to the librarian, and see that they are checked off the register it will save considerable trouble in looking them up. There are still a large number of books that are being retained over time, some which are called for most frequently are: "Barriers Buried Away," "Elsie Venner," "Lullie," "Rufus and Rose," and one copy of "Ben Hur."

Mr. Robert McFarland gave us a call a few days ago and noted the changes and improvements, and offered to donate the Century Magazine to the room next year. Mrs. Mary Yike offered a third for the room if the society wished it. The offer was accepted with many thanks and the little songster will be installed in his place as soon as a cage is in readiness for him. We are under obligations to Mr. Wm. Smith for a roll of cord for hanging pictures.

Rev. Parker of the Congregational church looked in on us a few minutes this week. Also Rev. Hoggland new pastor of the Unitarian church who assured us of his sympathy in our work.

Next week will be the regular Mother's meeting which is held the 2nd Tuesday of each month. The subject considered was "Dangers to our Girls," which should claim the attention of every mother and bring out a large attendance.

Meetings held every Tuesday at 3 p. m., No. 20 Douglas avenue, in public meeting room, up stairs.

THE BENEVOLENT HOME.

To the Editor of the Eagle.

May I trespass upon your valuable space with a few words about our little Benevolent Home?

It is pleasant to be able sometimes to chronicle pleasant things for too often our hearts ache from the history of the sorrows and sufferings that come before us. The pleasure of things I refer to are those little bags from the dear children of Wichita. They encourage us in our work, they brought supplies to our home, and they deserved a longer acknowledgment than your space permitted.

I am afraid that many a nice little Johnnie and sweet little Pearl has felt that his or her particular bag was not noticed, but I can assure them that our contents of each bag were noted and those with a quarter slipped in a potato, or a dollar in an envelope, or even four little copper pennies were among the apples, all were received and appreciated. One thing was not received, although it was sent to us, and that was a bottle of weak tea marked "whisky." Some ferocious prohibitionist (must have passed that before it reached the directors' hands, and had it not been enquired from the boy who sent it, we should have known nothing of it.)

Through the kindness of the editor of the EAGLE we published the total of the contents of the bags and we would gladly have given the names of the kind little donors but Mr. Editor it would take a whole page of your paper to publish two thousand names.

Another pleasant thing I would mention is the following letter which we received at our last meeting. We are so much indebted to any mark of gratitude that this letter touched all of our hearts and we publish it hoping that the ladies of Wichita may give work to the worthy writer of it, whom we can thoroughly recommend.

President and Ladies of the Benevolent Home.
For your kindness in giving me for a trial first your plan sewing children's clothes, underwear, etc. My name is No. 3, Com. and see me, I would like to know and be known of you. God bless you, dear ladies, you and your loved ones, may you never know the we and heartache I have known. Your cause is a grand one and should trouble no one. You promise of "Broad cast upon the waters" to return will surely be fulfilled. Respectfully and gratefully,

EMMA C. HOLMES.

This letter needs no comment from me and I will not further intrude upon your time and space today but in the near future may ask for a corner to say some unpleasant things. Your truly,

MRS. A. BASKLEY.

THE EUREKA FURNACE.

Mr. B. Parmy, vice-president of the Eureka Furnace company of Dayton, Ohio, has been for some days in our city, while he is here he is connected with Columbia Hotel company of that city, whose natural west-end agent is J. E. Sawyer of this city. Mr. Parmy, as many of our readers will doubtless remember, visited our city several weeks ago. He now comes for the purpose of introducing his furnace to the favorable notice of the people of the towns and cities throughout southwest Kansas and to determine the advisability of manufacturing the Eureka Furnace for the western trade at this point. Several of the furnaces have been put up in residences and other buildings in the city and they work to a charm. They are self feeders and burn the cheapest slack coal hard or soft, the great percent of heat being developed by the combination of the smoke and gas which ordinarily escapes through the chimney. In fact it is a wonderfully economical furnace, readily consuming the dirtiest coal, refuse oil, kerosene, even burns the soot, or permits no formation of soot as it consumes the smoke and gases. For homes it requires little attention. A specimen furnace, set up without any casing can be seen operating at Deming & Lynch's office, 106 Douglas avenue.

CHANGED HANDS.

Mr. John Kimmeler yesterday sold his marble works on North Main street to W. Teetzel, of Cleveland, Ohio, for $8,000. Mr. Teetzel has been in the city for some weeks and decided to locate here in business. He has been in that business for twelve years, and comes to the city highly recommended as a business gentleman.

JENKINS' CASE.

The case of Chas. Jenkins, the youth whom it was alleged had forged certain checks, had a hearing yesterday. The charges preferred against him were not for forgery, but for obtaining money under false tokens and promises, the information having been sworn out by the restaurant man with whom he boarded. Jenkins appears to feel perfectly at ease and thinks there is no doubt but that he will come out of the difficulty in good shape.

CAPTURED.

Mr. S. B. Mann and wife of Adrian Michigan, arrived in the city last week to visit their daughter Mrs. E. B. Hood, and have concluded to spend the winter, and probably to make Wichita their future home. They find the winter weather much more pleasant than that of their old home, and the life and business of the city beyond their expectations. Mr. Mann is a prominent citizen in politics in his native state, having held state offices a number of times. He is also well posted in the products of the "happy valley."

Y. M. C. A. ECHOES.

Noonday prayer meeting as usual today from 12:45 to 1:30.

Gospel meeting at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the First Presbyterian church, to which all young men are cordially invited.

Mr. W. L. De Groff, superintendent of the American Sunday school union, will address the men's meeting tomorrow afternoon in the First Presbyterian church.

Regular monthly meeting of the board of directors will be held next Monday evening at 5 o'clock.

GONE.

There are three young gentlemen who at present, on account of the constant reminders of winter, are bewailing the loss of their overcoats. The young men in question are Fred Bentley, W. L. Miller and R. L. Gordon. They left their coats hanging Thursday night in the hallway of the Smith boarding house, on North Lawrence, and afterwards when they went for them they were gone, gone, but oh, where? The police have been notified, and the chances are that soon the gentlemen will have their stolen property.

ROCK ISLAND FREIGHT DEPOT.

The rebuilding of the Rock Island freight depot will, with the exception of some interior furnishings, be completed this evening. The walls of the former structure remain almost intact, there having been, however, a slight addition in the south walls. A new roof has been put on the structure, a new platform, built and new window and door frames put in. As the work was commenced only Monday, the rebuilding has advanced with characteristic Wichita energy.

AGAINST THE ADMISSION OF UTAH.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church are engaged in securing signatures to a petition to congress asking that body to refuse admission to the territory of Utah to become a state. Petitions have been placed in the hands of all the city pastors who are requested to secure signatures in their respective congregations. It is understood that an effort will be made early in the present session to admit Utah as a state, and the objection to it is the fact of her institution and practice of polygamy.

WHAT BECAME OF THE MONEY.

By the destruction of the stock yards, C. K. Snyder, the watchman, was not only thrown out of a job but at the same time lost all his money, clothing and everything else he had. When this loss was made known to his friends, one of them went to work with a subscription paper and soon had raised for his relief a neat little sum amounting to $100. It is said that $80, given by people of the city in small sums, Mr. Snyder having been informed of the subscription list has for some time anxiously awaited its turning over to him. Such however evidently was not the intention of the officious individual who circulated the paper for nothing has been seen of the money nor for the past few days of him, and now it is believed he has skipped carrying with him the money given for Mr. Snyder's relief.

MULHALL'S DETECTIVE AGENCY.

James McMahon, the skillful and successful Missouri Pacific detective, has opened an office in the Clement building. Mr. McMahon has five years residence in this city as well as his three years employment by the Missouri Pacific has won golden opinions for his thought and able work, and may be open the office here and there by a large number of prominent business men. Besides his own personal attention and care he has engaged two eminently practical detectives as assistants. It is his intention to give to all business entrusted to his care the closest and most careful attention, and in the light of his past wide experience and thorough acquaintance and familiarity with the country there is an assurance that McMahon will come nearer than any one here or from a distance, in solving a mystery, arresting a criminal, recovering stolen property or any other of the difficult work that usually falls to a man of his profession.

HATS FOR COUNCILMEN.

"What have you done with that cremona business by this time?" asked a member of the council yesterday to a member of the special committee appointed to look after that Second ward enterprise.

"Do, what can we do?" was the impatient reply. "George Harris is frothing a little, but he, with the rest of us, don't know what to do. He is satisfied he wants it removed, but not as had now as he did, because it ain't been doing the city work since the 11th of last month. We now need a cremona as bad as ever, and what can we do. In fact, I don't know what made those fellows stop over there. By their action they have certainly thrown themselves liable to lose every section of that ordinance. They can't claim anything from the city, as it is evident they have forfeited all rights."

"Well, don't be so certain about that," said the other. "They stopped work because some neighbors were kicking about the stuff being hauled past their houses. The furnace did good work, all that was claimed and according to the ordinance they can't be bounced, because of the hauling. Those fellows have simply suspended until this thing quiets down and then they will start up again, and you can gamble that they won't move on account of some fellows tricking on that hauling racket. If they do good work when they start again as they have been you can bet the city will be compelled to cough up some money, which by the way is a very common complaint just now, more common than inventing taxes, and I mean to allow. I now make this great big guess that it won't be moved."

"I'll go you a hat that English gets it."

"All right; Dunlap?"

"Yes."

SEWERNUDDLE.

WICHITA, KAN., Dec. 9, 1887.

To the Editor of the Eagle.

Permit me, through your columns, to correct some statements made in the article headed "Threatened Slip" in Thursday's EAGLE. The statement that Mr. Brown had not been in the city for some time is not true, and in the nature of the case could not have had even the shadow of a foundation. It is a fact that Mr. Brown had never spoken a word to me upon that subject or any other. I was at home at the time possession was taken and excavation was made, but no knowledge of its being done until after its completion, but found it out when I went to show a party some lots on my addition and could not really reach home to make any excuse. I promised to speak to the sewer committee, which no doubt he did, as a man soon appeared at my office and introduced himself as Mr. Brown, of the sewer committee. This last night as my office was a member. In the conversation there he excused himself in the matter by saying he had given much attention to the matter, but that Mr. Hoff had been in the city and evidently forgotten me. I then made a proposition to offer no objection to the enterprise, as I was in sympathy with it, and it was as provided for in the ordinance, and I relinquish their claim upon old ditch to me across my land and fill up the same whenever the Topeka avenue sewer should come into use. Which proposition had already been entered into by council with Mr. Kincaid, who occupied a situation same as mine. Mr. Hoff Brown agreed to and assured me that was the intention of council, and that he would attend to it at the next meeting of council. We passed, a council meeting was held, but no mention was made of the matter, my matter as promised.

The following day I called upon Mr. Brown and asked why he did not bring up my matter last night as promised, and was answered with a little excuse. Not being satisfied with the excuse I mentioned that the condition of my proposition meant immediate action, and that I would require that the conditions were entirely satisfactory and he would attend to the matter at next meeting without fail.

From that time for two weeks I called upon Mr. Brown, at least weekly and sometimes semi-weekly, and was met with excuses for not doing and promising for the future, until I became disgusted and employed Attorney Mr. Noah Allen, who put my proposition in writing and called upon our city attorney to see if the matter could be arranged. He referred him to chairman Brown as the proper man to see. Mr. Brown was then seen and promised and readily did so something in the council that caused the matter to be referred to him, and just where it was before the move, and there it has remained for months so far as I know. My attorney has been at home almost every day since but no committee has come to arrange as promised. After our return from California I called upon his majesty, the chairman of sewer committee, and was told in words, many ways chosen, that the council had decided to do nothing about the matter, further that if I ever had any rights I had forfeited them since the city had possession. Again I called an attorney, and was told that I could proceed in different ways as the city was trespassing. The shortest way would have been to sue about three hundred square feet of sewer to hold it, but as I had no wish to injure our common interest because one man had failed to do his duty I proceeded direct to the council; not for damages but to have the sewer committee destroyed unnecessarily and destroying private drive. My claim is not for things that could not be avoided, but for those that have been if one man had done his duty as an official. The council are evidently satisfied with my bill and proposition for future rental as they continued the matter in the hands of the committee that have caused the present evil.

Respectfully,

HENRY K. TULLER.

AMUSEMENTS.

CRAWFORD.

It was a highly artistic and cultured performance that Miss Madden gave last night at the Crawford. The play presented "In Spite of All," is Mr. Steele Mackaye's adaptation of "Princess Andria." The great play-wright Americanized and adapted this wonderful production, still retaining the spirit of its author and distinguishing feature of all French plays, making the last act the center of interest, the climax to which all others but lead. But Miss Madden, Alice Clendenen, the play would be nothing without her. The sweet womanliness of this winsome little maiden smoothing the hand and kissing the head of her erring husband appears to pervade the whole theatre. She does not make fiery springs at people nor coil about them in a ravens' sort of way, but she smiles and her hands, rubs her face against the one she loves, wants to be kissed and made much of and all in such a way that every man in the audience would feel ready to shoot the leading man if he didn't seem to like it.

The support was of great strength. Mr. Forrest's "Carroll" was finished and artistic. Mr. Stanley brought out everything that was in him. Mr. H. E. Willard was excellent as "Jack." Miss Tyler's Stella was a charming impersonation.

Tonight will be given "Caprice," of which the New York Telegram says:

"Miss Madden was at her best last evening, and alternate tears and laughter were the result of her performance. Her way thrown by her excellent acting and attractive personality. She is one of the most versatile of artists and her versatility is greater at every appearance. In "Caprice" she has an excellent medium for her peculiar gifts, and her supporting company is good all around—in fact, exceptionally good."

EMMA ABBOTT—SALE OF SEATS MONDAY.

The sale of reserved seats for the Emma Abbott opera engagement will begin next Monday morning at the Rock Island ticket office, and as a rush is expected those who do not want to get left must be on hand early. Emma Abbott's last visit to Wichita was one of the most delightful events that ever occurred in this city, and the coming engagement holds out still greater attractions for the enjoyment of our citizens. The opening opera will be Verdi's grand "Il Trovatore," in which not only Emma Abbott, but her entire company, have made a phenomenal success. Saturday matinee, the brilliant comic opera "Carnival of Venice" will be given, with Emma Abbott among the masquers, and as a farewell she will give her charming representation of "Arlene" in the popular "Bohemian Girl."

MORE THAN USUAL.

A curious and not a common sight was presented to those who were in the Santa Fe waiting room last evening before the arrival of the south-bound passenger train. It was that of a young lady who had five fingers and one thumb on her left hand. The woman was well dressed and looked perfectly natural with the exception of her unusual number. The mother of the young lady informed a gentleman who noticed the freak that she had six toes on her left foot. The young lady and her mother reside in Arkansas City, and took the train for that place upon its departure.

The firm of Franck & Carnien, tailors on East Douglas avenue, dissolved yesterday by mutual consent. Mr. Carnien bought Mr. Franck's interest. Mr. Franck will open up business for himself in a few days. He says he has been in the city a number of years and has found Wichita his best friend of all cities.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Duncan gave Miss Dolly Kahoe a social farewell party last night on the eve of her departure with her little brother and sister, to the home of the grandfather in Maine, where they will hereafter reside. The party was well attended and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all who were present.

FROM THE TOPEKA COMMONWEALTH.

Mr. Moses Matthews and Miss Cora L. Hoffman, of Wichita, were married last evening at the home of the groom's parents, 313 Jackson street, North Topeka. "Moses" Matthews, as he is familiarly called, is well known to most Topekan. He has lived in Topeka ever since it was a city, and has established a reputation for himself as one of the brightest of the younger members of the bar in the state. He has taken an active part in politics in the past, and has occupied many places of honor in the councils of the Democratic party, where he has ably represented the young blood and progressive element in the party. Miss Hoffman is a young lady of high social standing in Wichita, and has many friends in that and this city. The newly wedded pair have the best wishes of the Commonwealth.
